

Terms of Use

17 October 2023

These Terms of Use govern use of the MERT CONSULTING website (“the Site”). The Site is owned by MERT CONSULTING, an Florida company that does business as MERT CONSULTING. References in these Terms to “Users” mean parties who access or otherwise use the Site. References to “the Site” include the content displayed by the Site (e.g., text, data, graphics and images, site layout, look and feel, and other design elements, along with any materials posted on or derived from the Site) together with the underlying components of the Site (e.g., the files, code, technology, and other underlying components that comprise the Site). Accessing or otherwise using the Site constitutes agreement to these Terms.

Permitted Use of Site and Use Restrictions

Subject to these Terms, Users are permitted to use the Site for its intended purpose. The primary purpose of the Site is to provide information about MERT CONSULTING and related matters. Users may view, print or download, for User's own personal use, the content on the Site that is made available for viewing, printing or downloading, as applicable. Other than as expressly permitted by these Terms, Users shall not copy, reproduce, excerpt, modify, distribute, transmit, display, adapt or edit, or create derivative works based on, the Site.

User agrees to comply with all applicable terms and laws in connection with the Site. Use of certain aspects of the Site may be subject to additional terms made available separately. Any use of the Site other than as permitted by applicable terms is prohibited. The Site may include non-public portions which require credentials for access. Any use of non-public portions of the Site without express permission from an authorized representative of MERT CONSULTING is prohibited.

The Site, or portions thereof, may be modified by MERT CONSULTING from time to time. Availability of the Site is also subject to change. MERT CONSULTING may restrict or revoke some or all of the permissions given with respect to the Site, including permissions regarding use of content from the Site, with respect to some or all Users. MERT CONSULTING reserves the right to restrict any linking to the Site that MERT CONSULTING determines to be inappropriate but assumes no responsibility to take any particular action. In the event User violates these Terms, User's permission to use the Site shall automatically terminate.

Proprietary Rights

The Site (including its content and underlying components as described above) is proprietary to MERT CONSULTING and is protected by intellectual property laws including copyright laws, trademark laws and other laws. Other than the limited permission given to use the Site in accordance with these Terms, MERT CONSULTING reserves all rights. MERT CONSULTING's making available of information, materials and other content does not constitute a license. The Site content may include articles, reports, white papers, etc. (collectively "Site Publications") which are proprietary and protected by intellectual property laws as described above. Site Publications are subject to all restrictions set forth in these Terms. In no event shall any Site Publications be used commercially or altered in any manner.

Trademarks

"MERT CONSULTING", (including the stylized MERT CONSULTING logo) are registered trademarks of MERT CONSULTING. MERT CONSULTING's trademarks are also registered in other countries where MERT CONSULTING will do business. Other trademarks that may appear on the Site may be trademarks of MERT CONSULTING or third parties. MERT CONSULTING's trademarks may not be used without MERT CONSULTING's express permission as documented in a written agreement signed by an authorized representative of MERT CONSULTING providing for such restrictions and other terms as are required by MERT CONSULTING. Examples of uses of MERT CONSULTING trademarks that are prohibited without such permission include use as metatags or other hidden text. Third-party trademarks may not be used without appropriate authorization from their respective owners.

Third-Party Content

The Site may contain information from or about third parties or links to information from or about third parties ("Third-Party Content"). In no event shall MERT CONSULTING have any responsibility relating to any such Third-Party Content or relating to any services or products provided by those third parties. If MERT CONSULTING becomes aware of any inappropriate Third-Party Content on or connected to the Site, MERT CONSULTING may remove that content to the extent feasible but assumes no responsibility to take any particular action.

Disclaimers

The information which is made generally available through the Site does not constitute professional advice. Although MERT CONSULTING endeavors to provide accurate information, such generally available information on the Site is provided on an AS-IS basis without any assurances regarding accuracy or other matters.

Modification of Terms

These Terms may be amended from time to time by MERT CONSULTING posting changes to these Terms on the Site or by otherwise providing written notice of the changes. Terms may not be modified or waived except as provided in the foregoing sentence. Any use of the Site after MERT CONSULTING's posting changes in these Terms or otherwise providing notice of the changes as described above constitutes User's acceptance of these Terms as modified.
